MR. JOHN ADAMSON

Mr. John Adamson died at his home near Fearnleaf this morning at 2:30 o'clock after an illness covering a period of six years caused by injuries sustained while working for the C. & O. railroad. He was 43 years of age and is survived by a wife and five children, his parents and two sisters. The funeral will be held at Shannon on Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Burial in that place.

The infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Lauderback of the West End, that died soon after birth on Tuesday night, was buried in the Maysville cemetery yesterday.

HIGH SCHOOL DEMONSTRATION

The students of the High School gave a wartime demonstration this morning before school hours. The larger part of the student body marched through the street of the business section of the city carrying flags. At the corner of Market and Third streets they stopped and cheered the flag and sang the "Star Spangled Banner". This shows the patriotism of the American people.

The entertainment that was to have been given on Friday night by the Forest Avenue Parent-Teacher Association has been postponed until the latter part of the month.

SENATE VOTES WAR

Concurrence By House of Representatives Expected to Come Today—
Resolution Passed By Upper Body By Majority of 82 to 6 After Day of Continuous Debate.

Washington, April 4.—The resolution declaring that a state of war exists between the United States and Germany was passed in the Senate tonight by a vote of 82 to 6.

The resolution, drafted after consultation with the State Department and already accepted by the House Committee, says the state of war thrust upon the United States by Germany is formally declared and directs the President to employ the entire military and naval forces and the resources of the government to carry on war and bring it to a successful termination.

Action in the Senate came just after 11 o'clock at the close of a debate that had lasted continuously since 10 o'clock this morning. The climax was reached late in the afternoon when Senator John Sharpe Williams denounced a speech by Senator La Follette as more worthy of Herr von Bethmann-Hollweg than of an American senator.

The passage of the resolution was not marked by any outburst from the galleries and on the floor the senators themselves were unusually grave and quiet. Many of them answered to their names in voices that quivered with emotion.

RESOLUTIONS ADOPTED

By Maysville Lodge No. 601 B. P. O. E. Over President Wilson's Message.

The following resolutions were adopted by Maysville Lodge 704 B. P. O. Elks at the meeting on Wednesday night and were wired to President Wilson:

Whereas the Order of Elks is distinctly an American Order, and

Whereas the Flag of Our Country is always displayed at all our meetings and is first on our Altar, and

Whereas, Love of Country and Loyalty to Our Flag is one of the paramount lessons of our Ritual, Therefore,

Be It Resolved, that Maysville Lodge No. 704, Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks does hereby endorse enthusiastically, the sentiments expressed in the message of our President, Woodrow Wilson, on the 2nd day of April; and Further Be It Resolved, that we pledge him our hearty cooperation and support in every way possible.

CIRCUIT COURT

In the Mason Circuit Court before a jury yesterday Rose McPheters, a very prominent old colored woman of the county, was adjudged insane.

Mrs. Bertha Jett was awarded a divorce from her husband, Edward Jett, and given the custody of their one child.

The case of the Commonwealth vs. William Breckenridge for murder occupied the attention of the court yesterday for the larger part of the day. Breckenridge was indicted for the murder of Adrian Jones at Lewisburg about two years ago but his trial has not come up since that time. The case came up in an argument over a crap game and Breckenridge is said to have shot Jones twice, the wounds causing his death. The jury was out for one hour and upon their return to the court room they returned a verdict finding him guilty and fixing his punishment at from five to six years in the penitentiary.

SEVERAL DONATIONS MADE

MRS. OSCAR GRIGSBY

Dies at Her Home on West Third Street Wednesday Morning at 11 o'clock After an Illness of Some Time.

Mrs. Oscar Grigsby, aged 43, died at her home on West Third street Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock following an illness of a complication of diseases covering a period of more than two years. Mrs. Grigsby had been ill for some time but hopes of her recovery were entertained constantly until a few days before her death.

Mrs. Grigsby was born in Tolesboro, Lewis county, in 1874. She was Miss Winona Owens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Owens of that place. In 1902 she was married to Mr. Oscar Grigsby of that county, and soon after they came to Maysville, where they have been living since.

She is survived by her husband and three sisters, Mrs. John Lykins of Tolesboro, Mrs. Charles Teager of this city and Mrs. A. R. Shropshire of Dayton, Ohio. She also leaves a number of nieces and nephews.

Mrs. Grigsby was a member of the First M. E. Church, South, always taking a leading part in the services there when ever her health would permit. For a number of years she was the leading soloist of the choir of that church. During her last illness she bore her suffering with Christian fortitude. Her many friends will be deeply grieved to hear of her death.

The funeral will be held from the late home on West Third street Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Burial will be made in the Maysville cemetery. The Rev. W. H. Campbell will conduct the services.

Prayer meeting at the Third Street M. E. Church this evening promptly at 7 o'clock. We are very anxious that all our members and friends who are interested in our coming revival be present at this service. The choir will have its final rehearsal of the Easter Cantata at the close of prayer meeting. Let everyone be present on time. S. K. HUNT, Pastor.

WAITING FOR AN AWAKENING
Appeals to the American people for the speedy restoration of the protective tariff, in order that we may be commercially prepared after the war, are condemned by the New York Times (Dem.) as "untimely and absurd." "Congress will have something else to do," declares the Times. "After the close of the war our tariff will be revised, owing to new foreign tariffs and new conditions abroad and at home. New commercial treaties will be negotiated. But no revision is needed now."

Can it be that the Times receives confidences from the White House accorded no other publication in the land? Is the prospective tariff revision in the nature of a threat or a promise? It can not be made much lower, the average duty rate on all imports now submerging to 8 per cent. What new commercial treaties would the United States be in a position to negotiate with such a low duty rate? What would be the consideration in exchange for an absolutely free American market? And what industries are to be selected with which to bargain against others, assuming that the Times stands for a bargaining tariff? And why should the adoption of new tariffs by European countries disturb the hide-bound tariff-for-revenue-only Democrats? Are they and the Times getting a glimmer of Republican light? Is the President on the eve of changing his mind on this subject? Are the people willing to entrust the industrial welfare of America to Democratic tariff incompetents when the war has ceased? The assertions and arguments of the Republican party in regard to the tariff were discredited in the last campaign, the Times declares. Nothing of the kind. The Times knows as well as anyone else that the "he kept us out of war" slogan won the day, and that is about to be discredited.

How about the untimeliness and absurdity of sending the new free-trade tariff commission to Europe "to investigate the tariff relations between the United States and foreign countries, commercial treaties, preferential provisions, economic alliances, the effect of export bounties and preferential transportation rates... and conditions, causes and effects relating to competition of foreign industries with those of the United States, including dumping and cost of production?" With the abnormal conditions existing in Europe today, what possible basis can this commission establish on which to make reports? The commission will be lucky if it is not interned for meddling.

It would require no superhuman effort on the part of Congress to enact a protective tariff law during this session. With a few changes it could be modeled after the last Republican law. It would provide some means of defense against post-war conditions, and give Congress at that time an opportunity entirely to consider the whole subject from every angle. It would also add probably $20,000,000 annually to the Federal revenues, relieving to some extent the damnable unjust taxation now laid upon northern and western industries, which, in spite of it, are rallying so splendidly to the Nation's support.

But perhaps the Times would deal with commercial preparedness as the Democracy has dealt with military preparedness: Wait until the crisis is upon us before taking action, and then subjected to a pressure resulting in wastefulness and extravagance and damage incalculable, because they were not "forward-looking men." England in preparing for post-war commerce, so are Germany, Austria, France and Russia. Japan is prepared. Shall the United States continue to trail along behind, waiting to see what may happen, awaking to find what has happened?

AGGRESSIVE LEADERSHIP NEEDED

The Republican party and the country at large need more of that sort of leadership displayed by Congressman Irvine L. Lenoir in his expressed desire for a Republican effort to organize the House of Representatives. From every possible viewpoint—public welfare, fidelity to truly representative government, or loyalty to party—the Republicans in the House should make every legitimate effort to organize that body.

The history of the Republican party demonstrates its superiority in principles, in legislation and in administration. Hence, the public welfare will be best subserved if Republicans are in control of the Committees of the House and in control of the program of legislation. In the four years of its administration, the Democratic party has been extravagant, inefficient, incompetent, and untrue to its most important pledges. There is no reason, therefore, from the viewpoint of general welfare, why Republicans in Congress should acquiesce in Democratic control of the House of Representatives.

The Democratic party came into power four years ago through division in Republican ranks, and retained whatever power it now possesses through misrepresentation in the campaign of 1916, and through disfranchisement of voters in violation of the spirit of American government.

Moreover, analysis of the Congressional vote cast in 1916 shows a decided plurality in favor of Republican candidates. Computing the aggregate of votes cast for all successful candidates, we find that Republicans elected received 5,511,429 votes, while Democrats elected received only 4,057,176, showing 1,454,253 more votes for Republicans elected than for Democrats. Making the computation upon the basis of all candidates running we find that the total Republican Congressional vote was 7,874,649, while the total vote for Democratic Congressional candidates was 7,753,285, showing a Republican plurality of 121,364, and this in spite of the fact that in Southern States there were frequently no Republican candidates. If popular government had prevailed in the United States in 1916, the Republican party would have a decided majority in the House of Representatives today.

With general welfare and maintenance of truly representative government on the side of the Republicans, it is needless to make and partisan plea for Republican solidarity in an effort to organize the House of Representatives. But even if the Republicans were in the popular minority, instead of the majority, it would still be their duty, in true loyalty to the principles for which they stand and to the voters whom they represent, to cast their votes, in the organization of the House in accordance with instructions received from the rank and file of the party to which they profess to belong.

No Member of Congress chosen as a Republican to represent Republican voters and Republican principles has a right to abandon a contest which he must have expected when he became a candidate and sought the votes of his party.

Life Was a Misery

Mrs. F. M. Jones, of Palmer, Okla., writes: "From the time I entered into womanhood... I looked with dread from one month to the next. I suffered with my back and bearing-down pain, until life to me was a misery. I would think I could not endure the pain any longer, and I gradually got worse. Nothing seemed to help me until, one day, I decided to

CARDUI

"I took four bottles," Mrs. Jones goes on to say, "and was not only greatly relieved, but can truthfully say that I have not a pain."

"It has now been two years since I took Cardui, and I am still in good health. I would advise any woman or girl to use Cardui who is a sufferer from any female trouble."

If you suffer pain caused from womanly trouble, or if you feel the need of a good strengthening tonic to build up your run-down system, take the advice of Mrs. Jones. Try Cardui. It helped her. We believe it will help you.

SAYS CUBAN REVOLT WILL COST U. S. PEOPLE $100,000,000

New York, April 3.—The political revolution in Cuba will cost the public of the United States between $75,000,000 and $100,000,000 this year, according to an estimate made today by Frank C. Lowry, sales manager of the Central Sugar Refining Company.

Refined sugar values today were 8 cents wholesale, the real market price or at least 1 cent to 1½ cents a pound higher than they would be if the uprising in Cuba had not occurred, and by disorganizing labor seriously curtailed the island's stock of sugar cane, Mr. Lowry said.

REVOLUTION IN SPAIN CHECKED

Madrid, Undated, by way of the Spanish Front, via Paris, April 2, 3 p. m.—Strong measures adopted by the Spanish government have checked a widespread agitation which assumed a distinct revolutionary aspect, although Premier Romanones in a formal statement declares the government refuses to treat the movement as revolutionary.

The troubles of the past week were based on a manifesto signed by twenty-six heads of labor organizations in all parts of the country reciting the grievances of the workmen, attacking the present form of government and announcing that a general strike would be inaugurated. The demands for a change in the form of government was regarded as more serious than the threat of a strike, owing to the unrest that followed the upheaval in Russia, and the government decided upon drastic measures.

Sixteen of the leaders who signed the manifesto were arrested charged with seditious utterances, the labor exchanges in Madrid and the provinces were closed and a royal decree was issued placing the country virtually under martial law by the suspension of the constitutional guarantees for free speech, speedy trial, etc. A rigid censorship also was inaugurated, preventing mention of the manifesto or reference to the character of the movement.

At the outset there was much apprehension of eventualities but it is now believed the summary action of the government has postponed development of the movement. If it has not entirely broken it with us. Only a few scattered movements among the workmen themselves are in evidence, making it plain that there is no organization capable of coping with the strong military and police forces under government control.

Troops have been moved to Barcelona and the northern mining section where a large labor element exists but the only serious disorder reported was at Valladolid, where a clash between workmen and gendarmes led to the injury of three guardsmen.

The capital remained calm but expectant apparently being thought that the events in Russia might lead to something similar here. There is no doubt that the Russian movement and the Republican regime in nearby Portugal has stirred feeling in Spain along similar lines. It is also asserted that German influence figured in stirring up discord so as to keep Spain fully occupied with home affairs. The manifesto which precipitated the troubles was the outgrowth of the high price and scarcity of food and coal, the suspension of exports in Spain's wine and olives all trade because of the blockade and the general derangement of labor and industry as the result of the war.

King Alfonso remained in the capital throughout the agitation and is reported to have told his advisers that there would be no repetition of the experience of his cousin Nicholas in Russia, as he would go to the head of the troops if necessity required and share fate with them. This report has had the effect of raising the King's prestige, making it appear that he would display firmness and courage in any emergency likely to arise. The action of the government, however, has virtually crushed the movement in its inception and the calm prevailing in most of the principal centers leads to the belief that disorder has ceased to be a probability for the present.

GERMAN SPIES' TRAIL REVEALED

Washington, April 3.—The significance of President Wilson's warning of German spies "even in our offices of government," became apparent today when it was learned that on several occasions trails of the German secret service have been discovered within some of the most closely guarded precincts of the executive departments.

Although officials do not believe that access has been gained by the foreign agents to any information of great importance, they are understood to be convinced that not even the State Department, with its highly confidential diplomatic facilities has been free from invasion.

No evidence on which prosecution can be based has been found. It is said, but enough has been revealed to prompt a sweeping official investigation and precautions which the department believes will safeguard its interests more adequately in the future.

In his address to Congress last night, the President laid particular stress on the activities of German spies and a stringent spy law will be one of the first war measures requested to Congress by the administration. At the last session an espionage bill drawn by the Department of Justice was passed by the Senate, but failed to reach a vote in the House.

Since the war began the justice department's bureau of investigation, charged with the prosecution of foreign agents and disloyal citizens, has been enlarged several times. It now is expected to be given much wider facilities in powers and to become an increasingly important part of the federal government.

Toledo, Ohio, April 3.—The Toledo Express (German) says editorially of President Wilson's note:

"God grant the prayer of the President, which he assures us, is from his heart that war may soon be terminated and friendly relations may be speedily restored."

"During the war, which now seems inevitable, we as men of honor must and will forget all ties, except our sworn or born allegiance to the United States, its President and its flag."

TIME IS THE TEST

The Testimony of Maysville People Stands the Test.

The test of time is what tells the tale. The public soon finds out when misrepresentations are made, and merit alone will stand the test of time.

Maysville people appreciate merit, and many months ago local citizens publicly endorsed Doan's Kidney Pills; they do so still. Would a citizen make the statement which follows unless convinced that the article was just as represented? Below is testimony such as the sufferer from kidney illness is looking for.

Fred Dresel, tailor and justice of the peace, 1238 E. Second St., Maysville, says: "I was troubled by inflammation of the bladder and annoyance from my kidneys. The kidney secretions burned in passage and often were retarded. I had severe pains across the small of my back which greatly interfered with my work. Doan's Kidney Pills, which I got at Wood & Son's Drug Store, gave me prompt relief."

Mr. Dresel gave the above statement on February 6, 1908, and on November 14, 1916, he added: "I have had the same faith in Doan's Kidney Pills today as ever, for I haven't had any trouble with my kidneys since I last recommended them."

Mr. Dresel is only one of many Maysville people who have gratefully endorsed Doan's Kidney Pills. If your back aches—if your kidneys bother you, don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask distinctly for DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS, the same that Mr. Dresel has twice publicly recommended—the remedy backed by home testimony, 50c. all stores. TOLEDO MAYOR PROMISES TO PROTECT FOREIGNERS

Toledo, Ohio, April 3.—Promising defense of their persons and effects so long as they conduct themselves in a law-abiding manner. Mayor Charles M. Milroy today issued the protection of foreign born residents.

The Mayor asked that any impositions on such residents be reported to him or to the police.

"While the crisis is serious," the proclamation says, "Toledo citizens may be depended upon to keep their heads and not violate the rights of any person, be he alien or American."

PLEA MADE TO FARMER TO SUPPLY ABUNDANT FOOD

Philadelphia, April 3.—Cooperation between the comptroller finance, the farmers and the workmen was urged by speakers at today's session of the National Employment Manager's Conference as one of the greatest needs of the country in the present situation.

The speakers were Alvin E. Dodd, secretary of the National Society for Industrial Education, and John Fitch, of New York, both members of the advisory committee on Labor and Welfare of Workers for the Council of National Defense.

"The government is planning a three-year basis of war," declared Mr. Dodd. "Every war measure drawn up has that plan in view. We have been asked to organize committees of citizens and representatives to bring today everything that can be used for national defense. It is not the idea of the government that we are going to need a great number of soldiers at present but all our industrial and financial resources must be organized immediately."

"The food problem is as serious. The farmer must get busy and supply foods not only for ourselves, but for the countries abroad. Above all there must be a complete understanding between capital and labor."

Have been built and actually delivered to retail buyers since August 1, 1916. These figures—320,817—represent the actual number of cars manufactured by us since August 1st, 1916, and delivered by our agents to retail buyers. This unusual fall and winter demand for Ford cars makes it necessary for us to confine the distribution of cars only to those agents who have orders for immediate delivery to retail customers, rather to permit any agent to stock cars in anticipation of later spring sales. We are issuing this notice to intending buyers that they may protect themselves against delay or disappointment in securing Ford cars. If, therefore, you are planning to purchase a Ford car, we advise you to place your order and take delivery now. Immediate orders will have prompt attention. Delay in buying at this time may cause you to wait several months. Enter your order today for immediate delivery with our authorized Ford agent listed below and don't be disappointed later on.
